
June 30, 1971, Lieutenant C. E. "Pat" Moore

Lieutenant C. E. "Pat" Moore, 51, was shot and killed by an armed bank robber who, while fleeing from officers, had taken a woman hostage inside 3113 Fifth Avenue. The robber was shot and killed moments after Moore was shot. Moore, a 27-year veteran of the force, and the first to head the department's Youth Bureau, was also a talented artist and painter. The City Council passed a proclamation honoring Lieutenant Moore and flags flew at half-staff across the city for days.

"Courage is the price that life exacts for granting peace."

- Amelia Earhart, 1927
